DUNLAP.

Special to the News.

Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper as this is the first writing.

I will try to tell you how Mountain City at Dunlap is getting along.

We are having work every day in the mines now and our head manager says that this coal is far ahead of any coal in the South and he says he can sell all that can be gotten out and the boys are all in good heart from hearing this Xmas news and getting paid off Christmas Eve by the Douglas Coal Company and a turkey presented to every married man who works for the Company. What company has ever been so kind as this?

Best Out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48 I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for an every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Coldwell and Chaudoin.

PRYOR INSTITUTE HONOR ROLL.

Hazel Ashburn, Edwin Leland, Maud Carlyon, Ina Lewis, Marguerite Spears, Frances Kelly, Pearl Gabel, Louise Spears, Ava Lankester, Verna Pryor, Gertrude Alexander, Ruth Leland, Annie Laurie Spears, Willie Foster, Vera Alexander, David Anderson, Ethel Bridgeman, Ernest Pryor, Cana Wynan, Tom Hoge, Carrie Doss, Nellie Kelly, Mary Kate Bennett, May Doss, Lucile Wright, Vienna Hall, Clara Graham, Sallie Darr, Anna Deakins, America Lay, Barbara Raulston, Janie Lay, Allice Pope, Prassie Rogers, Alvia Hall.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.

Prof. Rosa Tyler, of Chicago, Vice-President Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to turn into pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again. For sale by Coldwell and Chaudoin."

TRIP TO SOUTH AMERICA.

CHAPTER 3.

Steamboating above the clouds! Floating over some of the highest waters of the globe. We are now on Lake Titica, and the air is so clear that we can see for miles. There are eight large islands in the lake and most of them are in habited. How grand are the mountains that rise above this lake. There is nothing grander in the Himalayas or the Alps than the snowy peaks which peep out from the clouds around the lake.

This lake is higher in the air than most of the mountain tops in our country. Is it not a wonderful body of water? It is almost half as large as Lake Ontario and it lies twice as high as the top of Mt. Washington. The houses on the islands of this lake are among the highest houses in the world that people can live in and really this is the loftiest of all lakes upon which steamboats sail.

But where does the lake come from and where does it go? You can easily see its source by looking at the snows and glaciers above the lake. It is made by the snow water of nine rivers from the Andian peaks which flow into it. Where the water all goes is not known. There is no visible outlet to the sea. Part of the water goes into lake Poopo although there is no outlet to be seen.

We will now examine the steamboats that are flying to and fro on this body of water and we see that they were made in Glasgow, Scotland. This seems very strange. How could they possibly get such a large ship over the Andes? One of these vessels weighs so much that it could be loaded on wagons a thousand horses could not pull it.

How could they possibly lift such a weight over these mountains which everywhere in Peru are almost as high as Pike's Peak? Of course they could not lift the whole ship at once even if they tried.

But such ships were needed for commerce and commerce works in all sorts of ways to accomplish its own ends.

These vessels were loaded on ships at Glasgow and were brought through the Strait of Magellan to Mollendo where they were loaded on trains part at a time and brought up the Andes.

We now sail across the lake and visit Bolivia. When we land at Chichilla we are just 47 miles from its chief city, La Paz.

We take a stage drawn by eight mules for the journey. We go in a gallop all day long stopping only to change mules every three hours and at the close of day we look for the city to which we are going. We wonder if we shall get there before dark when at last the driver pulls up the mules and the stage stops. We are on the brink of a precipice and there a thousand feet below us in a gorge in the mountains is the curious city of La Paz. It is so far down that we can hardly distinguish the houses.

At last we reach the city. How queer it all is! Most of the people are clad in brightest of reds, blues and greens. Five eighths of the people are Indians and the remainder whites and of the mixed race of whites and Indians called Cholos.

Even the houses are a blaze of color for their walls are painted in the most delicate tints of red, blue and green.

This city is a very delightful one. The streets are narrow and transportation is done by donkeys and by man.

On the eastern slopes of the Andes by a very short ride on horseback we can reach the Yungas Valley where there are plantations of coffee, coca and cinchona trees.

Have you ever heard of cinchona? Perhaps not but I venture every one of you has sometime had to take quinine. Quinine is the bitter white powder made from the bark of cinchona trees. It is especially good for malarial fever and we shall need some later on when we go up the Amazon.

We see loads of cinchona bark on the streets of La Paz. Bolivia raises some of the best cinchona although excellent cinchona is also raised in Peru and all along the eastern slopes of the Andes between here and Colombia.

Plantations have been recently been started for raising cinchona trees. Six years after planting the trees are cut down and their bark stripped off for quinine. At this age the tree will produce about four pounds of bark. The next year after cutting sprouts will come up from the stumps and six years later another crop is ready for harvest. The most of the quinine commerce, however comes from the wild trees. The bark seen on the streets of La Paz was gathered from the forests at the head of the Beni river. It was carried through the woods for miles on the backs of Indians and then loaded upon donkeys and brought to La Paz.

We see on the streets of La Paz donkeys loaded with coca leaves from which cocaine is made. Cocaine is a drug used to deaden pain. Coca is also used by the Indians to chew. Every

A FORTUNE FOR 50 CENTS!

An opportunity to get thousands of dollars in cash is offered by THE MEMPHIS WEEKLY COMMERCIAL APPEAL to the subscribers making the first correct or nearest correct guess on the number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from September 1, 1901, to and including April 15, 1902, the only provision being that each and every guess must be accompanied by 50 cents for a year's subscription to

THE MEMPHIS WEEKLY COMMERCIAL APPEAL

The Great News, Farm and Family Journal of the South.

The first correct or nearest correct guess on the number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from September 1, 1901, to April 15, 1902, will be awarded in cash as follows:

If received in December	If received in January	If received in February	If received in March
$5,000	$3,500	$2,000	$1,000

To be plainer, the proposition is simply this: If the correct or nearest correct guess is received in September the fortunate guesser will receive $10,000.00 in cash. If not received until October, the guesser will receive $9,000.00. If not until November, $7,500.00. If not until December, $5,000.00. If not until January, $3,500.00. If not until February, $2,000.00. If not until March, $1,000.00.

THE MEMPHIS WEEKLY COMMERCIAL APPEAL is the greatest news, farm and family journal of the United States. At only 50 cents a year it gives ten and twelve pages weekly of news, specially prepared farm matter by Prof. S. M. Tracy; a woman's and children's department by Mrs. Jane Howard; a religious page with Dr. Talmage's Sunday sermon and a Sunday-school lesson; a short story and a continued story; the latest market reports; Washington gossip, and many columns of miscellaneous news and information.

Paper Can Be Sent to Any Address and Guess Credited to Party Making Remittance.

CONTEST CLOSES ON MARCH 31, 1902.

At midnight, but the guess is to be on the number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from September 1, 1901, to April 15, 1902, inclusive. The official figures of the Memphis Cotton Exchange will be the figures upon which the contest is to be decided. In order to help every one to figure clearly and enable them to make a good guess, the receipts in Memphis between the dates mentioned for the past six years are given below:

Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1901, to April 15, 1902.....	651,094
Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1900, to April 15, 1901.....	497,240
Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1899, to April 15, 1900.....	645,680
Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1898, to April 15, 1899.....	718,655
Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1897, to April 15, 1898.....	579,490
Number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from Sept. 1, 1896, to April 15, 1897.....	628,486

No guess will be recorded where postmark shows letter was mailed later than March 31, 1902. But under no circumstances will a guess be recorded where letter is received at the Commercial Appeal office later than April 5, 1902, no matter what date of postmark.

If filled out properly it is not necessary to write a letter with it.

Indian we meet has a lump of coca inside his cheek and men, women and children chew it all day long. The Indians in the mines will not work unless their employers will give them with their wages, some coca to chew every day, and all of the Indians would rather have coca than coffee, tea or tobacco.

You must not confound coca with chocolate or cocoa which is sometimes called cocoa, nor with the cocoon tree.

The coca plant is a shrub which grows from four to six feet in height. It has leaves much like our winter-green shrub. They are very stimulating and the Indians tell us that chewing coca will keep out the cold and satisfy hunger.

We will next learn what we can of the mineral wealth of Bolivia as it has some of the richest mines of the world. (To be continued.)

TRAVELER.

Surprise Party.

The young people had a surprise party at Col. R. J. Brown's residence Friday night in honor of Misses Lulla and Nora Lasater, of Chattanooga, who are visiting here. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed, and snap, winkety-wink, cross questions and telephone were played.

Those present were:

MESSES.	MISSES.

MOUNTAIN CITY.

Special to the News.

John Bryant and Joe Cain, Jr., of Petros, were here Christmas visiting friends.

Edgar Chadwick visited "some-one" Christmas.

The girls and boys had a nice time at the parties at Dick Rigby's Christmas eve and night.

John Griffith says he enjoys courting the girls.

Miss Mary Ann Nunn visited Miss Cecie Frizzell Christmas.

Miss Daisy Kilgore visited Miss Lassie Frizzell Christmas and they made themselves sick eating candy and peanuts.

Hence Layne and family visited relatives at Tracy City Christmas. Mrs. Mary Kilgore is very ill with fever.

James Turner moved to his new house Friday.

A. Frizzell took his gun and went to the shooting match where they were shooting for chickens Christmas Day, and he said he did not expect to get any and sure enough he didn't.

Will Watley took his chickens to the shooting match Christmas too early in the morning. He never got out of them as the boys hadn't got right. If he had waited till Joe Kilgore got to shooting at his own chickens he would have come out all right.

DULCIANA.

Jesse Pickett Announces for Sheriff.

We call attention to the notice of Mr. Jesse Pickett, who places himself in line to receive the nomination as candidate for the most important office in the county. We have not a personal acquaintance with him, but understand he belongs to one of the oldest families of the county and is of good character standing and ability.

Blown To Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at Whitwell Drug Store.

WAR RELICS FOR SALE.

Cannon balls, grape shot, minsters, and other relics. Address, EDWIN HUDSON, Sunnyside, Tenn.

KELLEY'S FERRY.

Special to the News.

Miss Emma Troxler spent Monday night at Isaiah Newsom's.

Robt. Smith, of Oates Island, and son, Luthur, were in our vicinity Sunday.

Miss Sallie Sexton and Will Cureton were here Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Hartman, of Etna, is visiting relatives here.

The steamer, Avalon, made her first trip to Chattanooga Wednesday. R. J. Massey and J. C. Bible went to Chattanooga Sunday.

Anderson Hicks was buried today at McNabb graveyard. May the Lord comfort the hearts of the bereaved.

Miss Etta Richey, of Stanley, was in our midst last week.

Frank Ellis was at I. Newsom's Sunday evening.

Who was that young man that was going to bid farewell to the river and river folks until he got that white-winged missive Saturday.

Arch McNabb is the happiest boy in our midst. Wonder why.

Will Cureton started to see his best girl last Sunday and got as far as the top of the mountain and took a look at the river and went back home but said he would come the next Sunday even if he had to swim the river and from Miss Sallie's face he must have kept his word.

Miss E. J. McNabb came home yesterday from Etna where she spent the past two weeks.

Jesse Hartman is visiting home folks.

W. C. Bible spent Christmas at home.

Thousands Sent Into Exile.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. Don't be an exile when Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption will cure you at home. It's the most infallible medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung diseases on earth. The first dose brings relief. Astounding cures result from persistent use. Trial bottle free at Whitwell, Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Lewis Lyle was commissioned postmaster at Hickory Point.
